STUDENT BODY OF
UNION COLLEGE
BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY

foreword

*If in these pages you should find
Love and memories of days behind;
When from these familiar scenes you've gone
To do a deed, to make a home;
It is our wish to recommend
That you also find a friend.*

To that spirit of love and service pro Deo et homine which is the essence of our Alma Mater and which serves as a guiding light for her sons and daughters we, the staff of the 1949 Stespean, dedicate this issue.

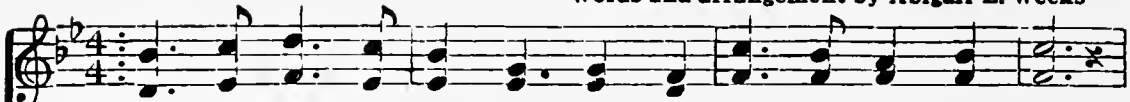

DEDICATION

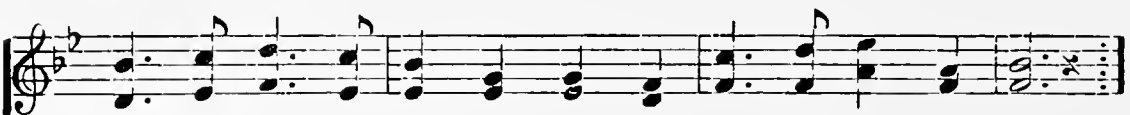

ALMA MATER

Union College

Words and arrangement by Abigail E. Weeks

1. { Girt with ma - ny a grand old moun-tain Stands our Col - lege dear,
Un - ion Col - lege, Al - ma Ma - ter, We would praise thee, too,
2. { For the great - est of all les - sons Praise is ev - er thine:
As we go to meet life's con - flict, We shall vic - tors be,

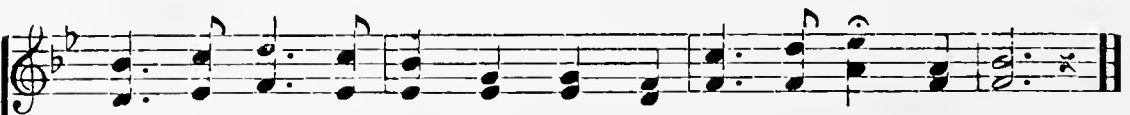

While the Cum - ber-land sings ev - er Praise for her to hear. }
For the strength of pre - cepts taught us; We'll to them be true. }
Faith in God and in our broth - er. Ser - vice, too, sub - lime. }
If we're loy - al to the pre - cepts Taught so well by thee. }

CHORUS.

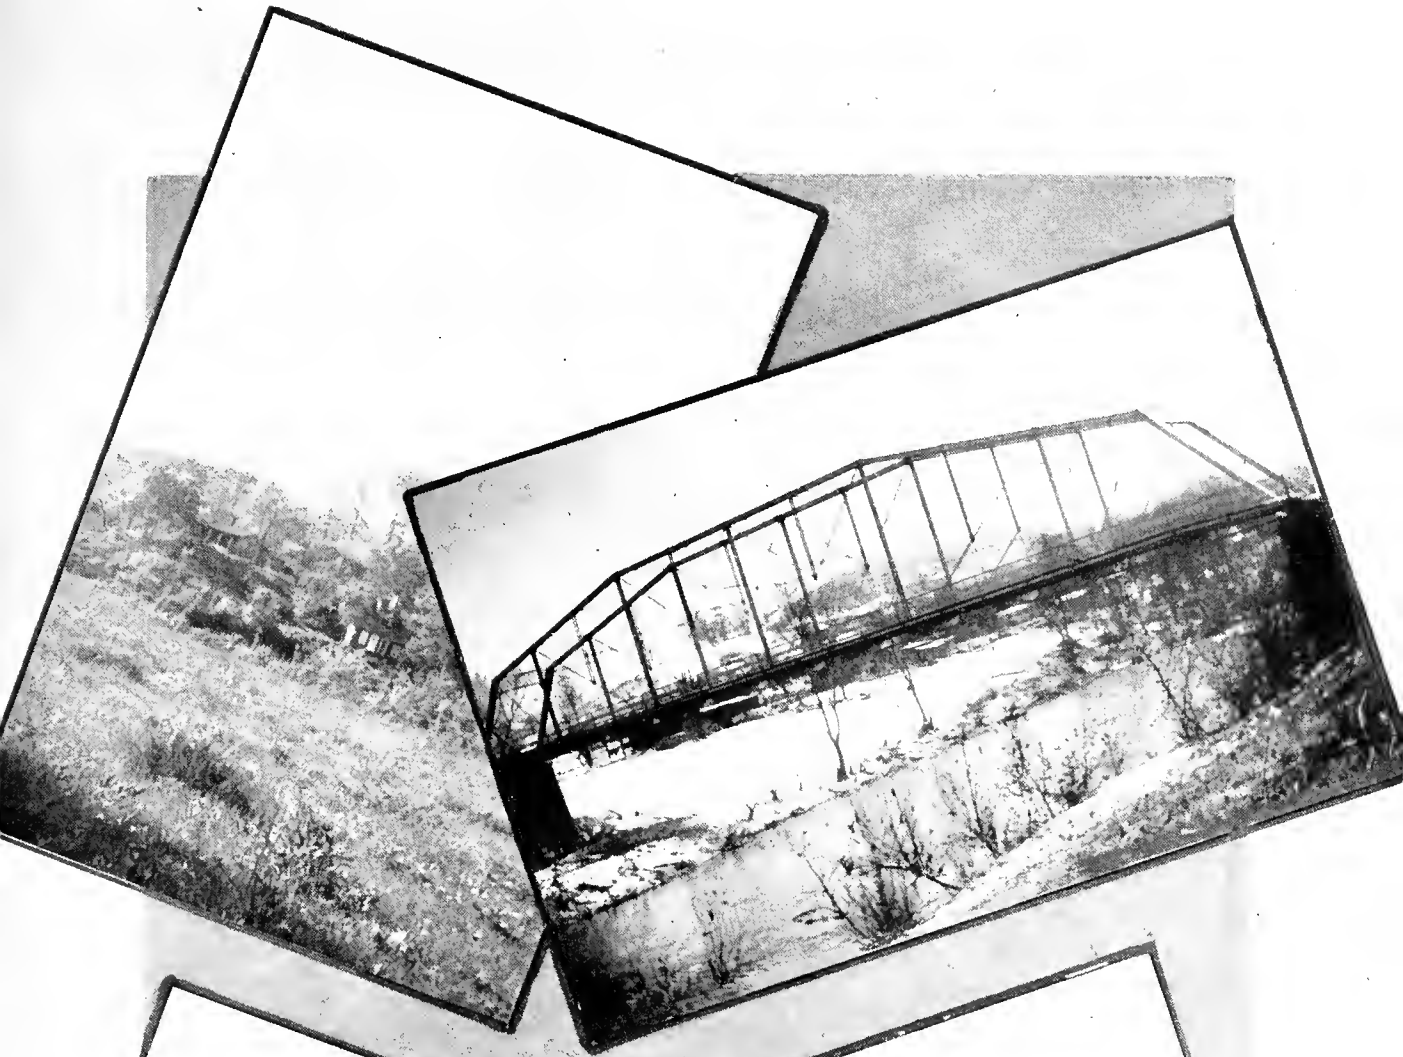

Un - ion Col - lege, dear old Un - ion! Un - ion strong and free!

Loy - al sons and daught-ers ev - er We will live for thee.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

This organization is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Its primary purpose is to extend and promote interest and understanding of international problems that affect world peace.

This club's activities for the past year have included several radio programs featuring discussions of international questions. Many well-informed speakers have addressed the club on different occasions. A delegation from this group attended the first I. R. C. Convention which was held at Georgetown College.

Union's I. R. C. was honored this year by being the first club in Kentucky to play host to the Ohio Valley Regional Conference of International Relations Clubs, in which more than sixty colleges and universities throughout Ohio, Kentucky, and West Virginia participate.

MOTTO: "... Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." (Mark 8:34)

The Oxford Club and Auxiliary are made up of young men and women who are devoting themselves and their services to full-time Christian work.

Members of the Oxford Club are those who expect to become ordained ministers, while Auxiliary members are those who are devoting their lives to unordained Christian service.

Many members have pastorates and serve in near-by churches.

The purpose of the Oxford club and Auxiliary is to promote Christian character and leadership and be the nucleus around which this Christian character is built.

Excerpts from the statement of purpose We commit ourselves in singleness of devotion to God and seek to know and do His will.

We seek to understand and follow Jesus Christ, and we seek to lead others to believe in Him and live as His followers.

We take a stand on political, economic and social issues, working to eliminate the causes of poverty and injustice through the power of Christian love.

We strive for unity in God's Church that it may become the community through which His will and love can be expressed most fully.
